DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 2, 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Jan et al. (US 6,287,983).

Jan describes a method for etching nitride comprising: adding a liquid TEOS (claimed silane or siloxane) into the hot phosphoric bath and etching silicon nitride on a wafer (col. 1, line 45-60).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 3-5, 7-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jan.

Referring to claims 2-5, 8-11, 15, Jan doesn't describe the liquid silicon containing precursor is methyl triethoxysilane. However, he teaches that other components can be used to produce silicate ions (col. 4, line 1-5); therefore, one skilled in the art would find it obvious to use other compound such as claimed methyl triethoxysilane in order to produce silicate ions for the etching of the nitride.

Referring to claims 5, 7, 10, 11, and 16, Jan teaches to add TEOS in sufficient concentration to bring the concentration of solvated silicate ions to at least 0.01 (col. 2, line 34-38). One skilled in the art would find it obvious to determine the silicon concentration and amount of liquid silicon containing precursor through routine experimentation in order to provide optimum silicon concentration for an etch bath that is selective to the nitride over the oxide.

Referring to claim 12, even though Jan doesn't describe simultaneously adding the wafers having silicon layer to be etched and a source of silicon to a nitride etching bath; however, adding the wafers and source of silicon simultaneously would have been obvious to one skilled in the art as long as the nitride can be etched with a reasonable expectation of success.
